School last week

Fireworks Party

Spectacular! The fireworks were brilliant, possibly the best ever seen at Wellesley and it was lovely to see so many parents and visitors join us. Thank you to Lord Guilford, who organised the display and also to staff who helped to set up the event, including the kitchen for the delicious food and drink.

Hockey v Mothers

It seemed a one-sided match as the 1st XI raced to a 4 – 1 lead, but the mothers (and two dads!) managed to claw back some goals. Perhaps someone needed to remind the mothers that when a substitution is made the player being replaced must leave the field! Well done to the girls and a good effort by all.

Remembrance Sunday

The service was well attended and the readers and choir did a fantastic job. Special thanks go to James Moor for playing so superbly the 'Last Post' on his trumpet. He received the Headmaster's commendation this morning for his performance. We would also like to thank Lieutenant Colonel John Wheeler for his address at our service.

School this week

Monday Music

Molly Healy is preparing for her Grade 3 violin later this week and played one of her pieces for us this morning. She played very well and we wish her, and others taking grades, good luck.

Fixtures

Please note there are a number of changes to fixtures that were published on the calendar. The fixtures listed above are correct for this week.

Lecture

Mr Amos Courage will be giving a lecture entitled 'Working with Gorillas' on Friday evening at 6.30 pm. We very much look forward to hearing this and parents are welcome to attend.

Team Photos

There will be team photos on Friday and when these are available to purchase, you will be notified.

Senior School Play

It is a busy week with technical and dress rehearsals for 'Half a Sixpence'. We very much look forward to the productions next week and hope that all goes well for the cast and production team.
